DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 16-18 and 20-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brennan (2,149,268) in view of Van Cleave (3,890,870), or alternatively, Mori (4,466,322).

Brennan discloses main body 24, 18, 11; roller bearing 32; non-linear levering rod 27, 28, 19c in figure 8; force receiving portion 27; pivot portion adjacent element 29; bent portion slightly to the left of roller 32 along the levering rod as shown in figure 8; levering rod is linear between the pivot portion and the bent portion as shown in figure 8; levering rod is linear between the force receiving portion and the bent portion as shown in figure 8; rest state shown in figure 8; depressing force exerting portion 31; distance between the force-receiving portion and the bent portion is larger than the distance between the pivot portion and the bent portion as shown in the figures; roller bearing 32 rests on the main body when no external force is exerted on the force-receiving portion as shown in figure 8; bent portion has an angle from 145 degrees to 160 degrees as shown in figure 8.

Brennan does not disclose the levering rod between the force receiving portion and the bent portion is kept at a substantially horizontal level in a rest state. However, Van Cleave discloses the levering rod between the force receiving portion and the bent portion is kept at a substantially horizontal level in a rest state in figure 1. It would have been obvious to provide the levering rod between the force receiving portion and the bent portion is kept at a substantially horizontal level in a rest state in Brennan as taught by Van Cleave in order to apply the external force to the force-receiving portion in the same direction as the movement of the punching force. See column 3, lines 12-23, in Van Cleave.

Alternatively, Mori teaches the levering rod between the force receiving portion and the bent portion is kept at a substantially horizontal level in figure 11. It would have been obvious to provide the levering rod between the force receiving portion and the bent portion is kept at a substantially horizontal level in Brennan as taught by Mori in order to make the punch compact. See column 4, lines 17-45, in Mori.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ostenberg, Hymmen, Housem, Wessels, Giulie, Harper, Semerjian et al, Hse, Tanaka and Carbaugh are cited for similar structure; Godston et al are cited for a roller/ball bearing in contact with a main body.

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 3724

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
